

MSMA STATUS ... 2020

OVERVIEW: MSMA continues to undergo examination and/or changes in its current label structure. The IRIS assessment and other testing in regard to current label uses has been completed and the MSMA Task Force (OAPTF) is fully engaged with EPA in seeking to extend the current label uses along with potential additions for MSMA beyond the present. Below is a brief analysis of the overall situation.

TURF USES (Golf Courses, Sod Farms, Highway ROW's)

- The Group II uses listed here were originally to be removed from the MSMA label as of December 31, 2013. That date is NO LONGER in effect and was removed from the label.
- With the completion of the IRIS assessment, the evaluation and interpretation of the data collected is being reviewed and negotiated. The OAPTF is encouraged that a full re-registration on turf may be possible.
- Current Label MSMA is legal for the above turf uses in all states of the U.S. (if registered in that state)EXCEPT the state of Florida.

COTTON USE :

- Cotton (Group I) is fully eligible for re-registration and has no ending use date.
- MSMA is legal for use in all states where cotton is grown, including the ten (10) counties in the state of Florida.

MISCELLANEOUS USES:

- Group III uses (including homeowner use, athletic fields, etc) are not legal for use with current label MSMA. These were lost in year 2010 from the current label.
- However, preparation is being made to submit for re-instatement of some of these lost label uses, specifically athletic fields and home lawns. Most likely these will be for professional application only, should the opportunity come to pass.

STATE of FLORIDA:

- As noted above, the only legal use for current label MSMA in the state of Florida is for cotton.
- Florida may be considered for re-registration on turf uses, but the monitoring well issue was mainly a state issue rather than EPA requirement, so much negotiation will be needed on this.
